THOMSONFLY ANNOUNCES LOW FARE FLIGHTS FROM MALAGA FOR SUMMER 2007

Thomsonfly flights for summer 2007 are now on sale

Tuesday 12 September 2006 – Thomsonfly has announced its summer 2007 low fare flights programme from Spain, offering 44 weekly low fare flights from Malaga to the UK. Passengers travelling from Malaga will be able to choose from low fare flights to 8 UK airports including Bournemouth, Cardiff, Coventry, Gatwick, Luton, Manchester, Newcastle and Doncaster. Prices start from as little as €39.99 one way including taxes and charges.

The new schedule demonstrates Thomsonfly's continued commitment to meeting the changing needs of travellers who want more convenience and choice and are increasingly turning to the internet to find the cheapest flights available for business or leisure travel, or for trips to visit friends and family. It also shows the importance of Spain and the Costa del Sol to Thomsonfly.

The low fare flights now on sale are in addition to Thomsonfly's lower frequency flights already on sale for next summer from Malaga to over 20 airports across the UK, which means more choice and flexibility for passengers.

Thomsonfly remains committed to providing a high level of customer service and offers allocated seating on all flights, also giving passengers the opportunity to prebook inflight meals*, seats and extra legroom seats. Thomsonfly also offers a generous baggage allowance of 25 kg, with the flexibility for passengers to choose how they distribute this between hand luggage and hold luggage (with a maximum of 10 kg as hand luggage).

Guy Stephenson, Thomsonfly's Commercial Director said: "Our flight programme for next summer confirms Thomsonfly as a serious player in the European low fares market. With fares starting from just €39.99 including taxes and charges, customers will benefit from a broad range of UK destinations from Spain, really attractive prices, allocated seating, a flexible 25 kg baggage allowance and a selection of great products to buy to make the journey even more comfortable. We believe this matches what our customers are telling us they want, and we are convinced our new routes will be a great success.”

Thomsonfly routes connect the UK with over 80 destinations worldwide from more than 20 UK airports, enabling customers to travel onto a wide range of other destinations. All flights are available to book at www.thomsonfly.com or by calling 914 141 481.
